SECTION 7: CONDUCT

Duke Law requires a candidate to reveal knowledge of all criminal incidents or disciplinary charges, even if expunged, sealed, or otherwise removed from the candidate’s records. When in doubt, you should err on the side of full disclosure, as subsequent discovery of a failure to fully and accurately answer these questions may have serious consequences. You have an ongoing obligation to report any conduct that would require you to answer yes to any of the questions in this section during the pendency of your application. If you are admitted, the obligation to report conduct applicable to the questions in this section continues until your first day of class at Duke Law School.

Please read the instructions carefully before answering these questions (visit our website or click on the “Law School Instructions” button). If you answer “yes” to any question, you are required to submit a supplementary statement or electronic attachment that provides full information.

Have you ever been dropped, suspended, warned, placed on academic or disciplinary probation, disciplined, expelled, requested or advised to resign from any post-secondary school, college, university, professional school, or law school? If you answer yes, you must submit a letter from a dean or university official that provides full information about the incident.  Yes  No

Have you ever (i) been arrested, charged or cited for any crime or (ii) been convicted of any offense other than a minor traffic violation?  Yes  No

Have you ever been discharged or dismissed from the armed forces other than by honorable discharge or been subject to military discipline?  Yes  No
